

Senior Management

Kent D. Farmer

President and Chief Executive Officer

Kent D. Farmer became president and chief executive officer on Feb. 1, 2004. He is also president of Rappahannock Electric Communications, Inc., REC's wholly owned subsidiary. Mr. Farmer holds bachelor's degrees in Business Management from Radford University and Accounting and Finance from the University of Mary Washington. Prior to becoming CEO, Farmer served as vice president and COO for five years. He has been with REC since 1979 and is a native of Caroline County. He and his wife live in Caroline.